

Wednesday Walk — Booromba Rocks to Honeysuckle Creek Campground — 30 May 2018

Like lizards on a rock, the hardy Wednesday walkers soaked up the sun on our walk in Namadgi National Park today (Booromba Rocks to Honeysuckle Creek Campground). We closely examined the eucalypts so that, by the end, most could confidently identify Eucalyptus dalrympleana from juvenile leaves through to giant specimens and differentiate it from E. viminalis. We discussed E. radiata vs E. dives and admired the coloured trunks of E. stellulata and the gigantic leaves of E. pauciflora. A hidden population of Discaria pubescens was the find of the day but Olearia glandulosa was also of interest.
