

Wednesday Walk from Booroomba Rocks Car Park to Honeysuckle Creek Campground – 20 February 2008

This walk is part of the Australian Alps Walking Track. The vegetation is regenerating from the 2003 bushfires and is woodland with some swampy areas. There are many striking, large granite boulders, with one such area surrounded by an olearia which is in the process of being named. There is a diverse array of understorey plants including brilliant displays of Wahlenbergia gloriosa and Lobelia dentata (both deep purple) in February. Olearia glandulosa was also flowering – a plant not often seen by us.
