

Wednesday Walk on Bruce Ridge – 24 July 2013

We began the walk from Dryandra Street just past Kunzea Street. We did a large loop, stopping for lunch at one of the water tanks before returning on the southern side behind the motor village. We saw many Acacia genistifolia flowering but not much else – just one Goodenia hederacea. However, there were many interesting plants and we added quite a few to our list - Austrostipa densiflora, A. scabra ssp. falcata, Bossiaea buxifolia, Cymbonotus lawsonianus, Eucalyptus melliodora, Glycine clandestina, Gompholobium huegelii, Hydrocotyle laxiflora, Persoonia rigida, Vittadinia gracilis and Wahlenbergia stricta. We've only done this particular walk once before, in June, but we're building quite a substantial plant list.
